INTRODUCING OUR WORK

Join us in this new learning journey!

MAS is a funded research project entailing plans for a platform of museums/galleries and learning institutions from across Europe, such as schools and universities to connect and form partnerships, in order to enrich classroom experience and overcome limitations related to physically attending a museum and other outdoor activities.

The project will run from November 2018-October 2020 and will be carried out by the Art + Design, elearning lab of the Cyprus University of Technology.

The target base are museum educators, school teachers, students and practitioners from across Europe. Findings will inform theory, research and practice for literacy driven, culturally responsive teaching and learning, through innovative use of virtual learning environments.

CREATE CUSTOM LEARNING PATHS

Personalise your instructional scenarios

Become part of the MAS virtual community, If you are looking for meaningful, inclusive, and relevant museum and school synergies. We will guide you through specific instructional design with practical implementation and evaluation guidelines, so that you know how to integrate the MAS framework to promote literacy learning for culturally and linguistically diverse students.

Objectives

Digital inclusion for diverse students

Ubiquitous museum learning

Use of IVLEs in curriculum delivery

Deeper understanding and engagement with cultural heritage

Multimodal meaning making
